1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1-6, 8-14 and 16-22 are allowed over prior art of record because the cited references either alone or combined do not disclose the claimed invention:

“An adaptive collision load path modification system for a vehicle comprising:
a plurality of object detection sensors generating object detection signals in response to at least one object external to the vehicle;

at least one structural stiffness-adjusting device coupled within a frame rail of the vehicle; and a controller coupled to said plurality of object detection sensors and said structural stiffness-adjusting device and activating said at least one structural stiffness-adjusting device in response to said object detection signals; wherein said at least one structural stiffness-adjusting device comprises an outer body at least partially filled with a magneto-rheological material that stiffens said frame rail when activated to increase alteration resistance of said frame rail as a result of colliding with said at least one object.”

“An adaptive collision load path modification system for a vehicle comprising:
a plurality of object detection sensors generating object detection signals; at least one tire deflation apparatus; and a controller coupled to said plurality of object detection sensors and said tire deflation apparatus and activating said at least one tire deflation apparatus to at least
